Gary Scheuring

Director, Sales Training Academy Hawaii

With nearly 40 years of sales and sales training experience, Gary has mastered the art of teaching the time-tested tools that have helped thousands of people in the business of selling and customer handling.

His selling career includes expansive experience in the automotive, insurance and real estate industries, as well as fund raising for various non-profits and public speaking.

Regarded as an expert in the art of training top-performing salespeople, Gary has spent the past decade as the Director of Training and Development for one of the largest automotive groups in Hawaii and has shown many brand-new people how to become top sales producers — fast.

Whether you're brand new in the sales industry or multi-year veteran, Gary and the team at Sales Training Academy Hawaii have material and techniques that will work for you.

His Topic: Finding, hiring, and training people for sales positions.
Speaking at PWN's Luncheon on February 22, 2024.
